

Ms. A. 1. 1. 1. 1. 1. 1.
Ms. A. 1. 1. 1. 1. 1. 1.
Cal: 50 Amherst St.
8th December 1915

Dear Miss MacLeod,

Many many thanks for your kind and affectionate note. We are all looking forward with eagerness to your next visit. I am sorry that whenever I think of visiting a friend I get nervous, the nervousness being due to weakness of the heart. And I say that, always looking upon you as my own flesh and blood, I do not want to make my apologies for asking you to come instead of going to see you myself and place myself at your service.

yes, I am anxious to hear from the Land of the Religion Eternal, and a sister from the Far West - a sister from a land which has just heard India's message from the lips of Vivekananda, put our grey heads together and have an hour's chat on 'the thing that matters', the thing that presses above all other things!

With great respect,
believe me to remain,
Ever yours Affectionately
in the Lord

M.

15. Kindly drop a line to say on what day you are coming Perhaps

Letter from "M" to Josephine McLeod (Tantine)
December 8, 1915